NO. 29

UP TO THE PEOPLE TO DECIDE WHICH ROUTE

Three Designated by Wiley; He Favors No. 1 For Ohio
River Road

It is up to the people of Jefferson, Hardin, Meade, McLean, Daviess, Henderson, Webster, Union, Crittenden, Livingston and McCracken counties to decide whether the Ohio river road from Louisville to Paducah shall be built with federal aid, and which of three proposed routes shall be followed.

Route No. 1, the preference of Commissioner Rodman Wiley, most closely follows the river, and the counties have until July 26 to raise their proportion of the expense fund, after which Route No. 2 has ten days in which to meet the conditions, and then Route No. 3 has ten days.

The latter route traverses Webster and McLean counties taking a straight course from Owensboro to Marion, while Routes 1 and 2 pass through Henderson and Union, north of McLean and Webster.

The federal government will put up half of the cost and the state and counties the other half, Jefferson, Daviess, Henderson and Union stand half the total cost of their sections, and the other counties are helped by the state in proportion to their assessed valuations.

Commissioner's Letter
This department has carefully considered all proposed routes for a federal aid highway leading from Louisville to Paducah and the routes are designated on the attached blue print in, what is considered the order of their importance.

It will of course, be understood that no route will be finally designated until all the counties through which the road passes, guarantee the money to buy the counties' part of the cost of building the road.

Route No. 1 will be designated provided the funds are raised and if the money is not raised on that route then No. 2 will be given a chance and if No. 2 fails, then No. 3.

I have been aided in this selection by the reports made by engineers of this department, also by a report made by one of the government engineers. I have asked the county judges of all the counties to express an opinion concerning the best route through their county, and have also had opinions from prominent citizens living in the various counties. From all the information secured the designation has been made and I take full responsibility for naming the route.

The points taken into consideration are as follows: First: It is thought best if possible that a road leading from Louisville to Paducah should pass thru the county seats of the various counties because a man living in any county naturally wants to go to his county seat and should a road not pass through the county seat, a great deal of business would be lost in the county.

Second: The number of people served and the territory through which the road passes.

Third: Availability of materials and cost of construction.

There has been considerable dispute over the route between Owensboro and Marion and it is perhaps right and proper that I should state the reasons for making the choice.

First: Webster county now has one federal aid road. McLean county will shortly have a federal aid road, known as the Central Route and should the road be designated through Webster and McLean counties, Union county would be prevented from receiving any federal aid. As it now stands all of the counties will receive at least one federal aid road.

Second: It is believed that more people are served by passing through the counties of Union and Henderson than would be served by passing through the counties of McLean and Webster.

Ohio County Can Get Road.
Ohio county will receive, if funds are raised, a federal aid road leading from Owensboro to Bowling Green and the northern section will be served by another federal aid road known as the Central Route which will be designated in the near future.

It must be understood that it will be impossible to make a more definite designation than from town to town and it will be necessary to allow the engineers sufficient latitude to properly locate the road. In other words, the road may not in all cases follow the present road also sufficient right-of-ways must be given and guaranteed.

It is, of course, understood that the estimates are rough because it is absolutely impossible to accurately estimate the cost of a road until surveys of the road have been made and when such is done, it may be found that the final estimated cost will differ from the estimates herewith submitted by 15 of 20 per cent.

In case there are two possible routes between any towns it is suggested that those on which the funds are first raised be designated.—Owensboro Messenger.

WILL SHANKS A SURE SHOT

The newspapers are saying much of William H. Shanks for lieutenant governor and always that which is good. No candidate in this campaign has so quickly sprung into public favor as he has and there seems nothing in the future so sure as that he will be triumphantly nominated. The fact is his opponent appears to have dropped out, since his very foolish card when Shanks announced, and that further his candidacy has gone all the money that he has spent to glimmering. The reasons for Will Shanks' growing lead are obvious.

He is connected with no faction or clique and all who meet him are impressed with his honest face and modest bearing, while those who know him best love him most. The writer has known him from boyhood and in all the years since he has heard no word or hint breathed against his fair name, which in this section stands for everything that tends to noble manhood. Kentucky is fortunate that a man of his calibre has offered for an office, not generally very largely sought after, but which is really a most important one, and when he is elected, as we are sure he will be, it will be a red letter day for Democracy. Let us with all the power at our command urge every Democrat to investigate the life and record of Lincoln county's honored entry in the race for nomination for State office and we are sure he will be impressed and record his vote accordingly. Mr. Shanks will be backed with the solid vote of this and adjoining counties and a well posted man says he will carry Madison, where his opponent was born and Clark where he lives.

ANTI-ILLITERACY CAMPAIGN

Miss Annie Davis, of Owensboro, recently appointed Moonlight School agent for Ohio County, is planning a great campaign this summer and fall to wipe illiteracy out of this county for all time. Statistics show that there are in the county, who cannot read or write, the small number of 338, 51 of whom are colored. This is about three people to each school precinct in the county who are illiterate. We believe this is as small percentage as can be found in the state. By a very strenuous campaign illiteracy could be put forever out of the county this fall and winter. Miss Davis plans to visit each school and secure the cooperation of the teachers and patrons in fighting illiteracy. She should have the undivided support of every one who wants to see the county stand on the highest round along educational lines.

HINDENBURG BEGS FOCH
TO SAVE KAISER

Copenhagen.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg, former chief of the German Staff has written Marshal Foch, appealing for his support of efforts to prevent the extradition of the former German Emperor. Von Hindenburg offered, also, to place his own person "fully and absolutely at the disposal of the allied Powers."

Field Marshal von Hindenburg sent a telegram to President Ebert of the German Government, on Friday, in which the former German commander assumed full responsibility for the war orders and proclamations issued in the name of the former German Emperor, according to a Copenhagen dispatch it received in London Saturday.

PLEASANT RIDGE ROUTE HAS INSIDE TRACK

Through Ohio County For Owensboro-Bowling Green Road.

Judge Wells has received a letter from State Road Commissioner Wiley advising that the report of Engineer Crozer, on the proposed route of the Owensboro-Bowling Green state aid road had been received. He says the engineer, after going over the three proposed routes from Owensboro to Hartford, reports distances and estimates of construction as follows:

For Daviess county; the Maxwell route 4.6 miles, $80,000; the Nuckols route 4.6 miles, $84,000. The Pleasant Ridge route is already constructed.

For Ohio county; the Pleasant Ridge route 11.3 miles, $286,000; the Maxwell route 12 miles, $268,000; the Nuckols-Heflin route 11.3 miles, $298,000, and from Hartford to the Butler county line 14.9 miles, $245,000.

"In the order of their importance," writes commissioner Wiley to Judge Wells, "this department would designate, first, the Pleasant Ridge route, second, the Maxwell route and third, the Nuckols-Heflin route."

Judge Wells is also advised by the commissioner that the federal authorities will not approve any new construction of roads unless they are sixteen feet wide and metal surfaced.

The estimated cost of construction according to the engineer's report, will be approximately $17,000 per mile for Daviess county and $25,000 per mile for Ohio county.—Owensboro Messenger.

TRAVELING ALLOW- ANCES MADE

Soldiers and sailors who have been discharged since November 11th, 1918, can now receive additional traveling allowances from the place of demobilization to their homes, according to orders received by the home service department of the Red Cross here. Those who expect to receive this additional pay must present their certificate of discharge at the office of Mr. E. G. Barrass, where the matter will be akes up for them.

A STRAWBERRY FARM

Prof. Sam Taylor, of Beaver Dam, presented us with a fine crate of delicious strawberries Thursday, which he grew on his strawberry farm. These berries were of the ever-bearing variety and had an extra flavor suited particularly to an editor's taste. Mr. Taylor has a tract of five acres on which he grows berries exclusively and last year he realized a handsome profit from it. He is one of the county's best known teachers and makes strawberry growing a sideline, but a very profitable sideline.

A "HEAVY" WEEK

Last week was a "heavy" week in Hartford—one of the busiest weeks that has passed over this town in a long time. Circuit Court being in session and the Teachers' Institute meeting here drew crowds from all over the county and the town had the appearance of a real metropolis almost the entire time. This week is almost as busy but the teachers have departed and this is responsible for the absence of over a hundred faces from our streets.

MOTHER TO LAY BARE HER LIFE TO SAVE SON

Will Tell Secrets Guarded Secretly So Many Years
If Necessary.

Los Angeles, Cal.—The story of her life, even the intimate chapters of her acquaintance with Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, which have been sacredly guarded, will be told by Mrs. Lulu Burger to save her son, Harry S. New, Jr., from the gallows.

This purpose was uppermost in the mind of the distraught woman today as she talked to a reporter while the train bore her toward Los Angeles, and the "boy" for whom she is longing to make whatever sacrifice the exigencies of defense may suggest.

Does Not See Son
But she did not see her son. Under this self-control of the mother was chaos. She had not the strength to see him, and a physician told her he must rest before the ordeal.

So she was taken to the home of a friend. Tomorrow morning she will go to the county jail and take into her arms a murderer, in whose moral innocence she believes, she says, "as in her God."

New himself shrank from the meeting today, and was relieved when he knew it was to be postponed.

"There is no one in the world like my mother," he said. No one else ever could be or could have been what she is to me. To see me in prison with this charge against me—what a homecoming!

"But when I tell her the story—that my mind was a blank, that I didn't know what I was doing, that the girl I loved was going to be lost to me forever, I guess she will understand better than anyone else, that the bottom dropped out of my world."

It was learned today that guarantees of financial assistance have come from the east, at least sufficient to take the case thru its preliminary stages. The promise of funds has come nominally from a well known man in Indianapolis.

This circumstance has led to the belief that no expense will be spared to clear New of the murder charge.

On the other hand, the district attorney will bring to the task of proving New a wanton homicide the best brains of his office. The plea of insanity, if it is advanced, will be counted as ridiculous and pictured as the last desperate hope of the defense.

Mrs. Burger left the train at Pasadena, where she was met by her daughter, New's half sister. She visited her home and then came to Los Angeles by automobile, directly to the office of New's attorney. It was reported arrangements have been made for an attorney of national fame is the defense. Further inquiries were said to have been made into the plans for the defense by a close friend of Senator New.

"Harry is the kind of boy who thinks all women good," she told the attorney. "This girl was his first sweetheart. He is a good boy and just the kind to go mad when the girl he loves more than anyone in the world said she would not marry him and refused to be the mother of their child."

New is completely exhausted from his nights of visions of the face of the dead girl. His face is lined, haggard and almost distorted from suffering and remorse. His eyes are puffed out of all semblance of normal eyes from weeping. New never cries when there is anyone to see him, but maintains as best he can his composure.

INSTITUTE CLOSES

The Ohio County Teachers' Institute came to a close Friday afternoon one of the most successful sessions in the history of the county's school Teachers representing nearly every school in the county were present throughout. A singular feature and great interest was manifested of the institute was the number of new faces that appeared in the gathering. Many of the older teachers have retired since last term and a dozen or more new ones have entered the work since the previous session.

There has also been some noticeable changing about in the school personnel this year, teachers being assigned new places.

One of the most important features of the institute was the interest shown in the moonlight school work in the county. Miss Davis, of Daviess County, the newly appointed county supervisor of moonlight schools, was present the entire time and gave several interesting talks as well as readings on the illiteracy campaign that is being waged and secured pledges from nearly all the teachers to teach moonlight schools and help eradicate illiteracy from the county. Statistics showed a surprisingly small number of illiterates in this county and by proper co-operative methods illiteracy can easily be wiped out in the next few years. Great interest is being shown by the teachers and much enthusiasm is developing.

Agriculture is also attracting the attention of many of the teachers since its introduction into the curriculum makes the study of the subject compulsory. At least two schools in the county teach vocational agriculture. County Farm M. L. McCracken made a very interesting talk on the subject and urged that practical agriculture be given more attention than it has hitherto received.

Prof. Keith, the instructor, conducted the entire institute with enthusiasm, and attention was good throughout. It is hoped much good constructive educational development will result from the helpful exercises of this year's session. The opening address at the beginning of the institute was made by Judge R. R. Wedding, with response by Prof. W. S. Hill.

G. O. P. SEEKS TO BLOCK WILSON'S LEAGUE TOUR

Admitted This Is Motive of Resolution Inviting Him Before Committee

Washington.—Both Democratic and Republican members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to-day asserted that, in their opinion, President Wilson will be invited to appear before the committee while it is considering the peace treaty.

Though there is a difference of opinion on this among Republican members of the committee, feeling appeared to be gaining ground to-day that an invitation to the President to appear would be inevitable in view of his clearly put offer, in his speech Thursday, to appear and give the committee all the information he possesses.

Senator Moses, New Hampshire, a Republican member of the committee, announced to-night he is preparing to call this to the committee's attention Monday by introducing a resolution inviting President Wilson to attend sessions daily at 10 a. m.

Senator Borah, another Republican on the committee, said he favors having Mr. Wilson meet with committee members, Senator Swan son, Democrat, Virginia, also came out in favor of it. Mr. Swanson said he thinks it likely that the President's offer to inform the committee in person will be taken advantage of whom questions are reached over which there is controversy or concerning which information from other sources is lacking.

"I do not see how anyone can refuse to invite the President, after he has so clearly expressed his wish to be of service," said Mr. Swanson.

Mr. Moses admitted that his resolution, if offered, will be an attempt to prevent President Wilson from making his contemplated speaking tour.

"In my opinion," said Senator Moses, "the President can be of greater service here than if he makes a stumping tour through the country in behalf of the League of Nations."

Sensors called attention to the fact that if the committee declines to invite the President, the blame for failure to accept his co-operation will be brought home to the committee, and the public will not be allowed to go uninformed of the fact that Mr. Wilson's offer of full information went unaccepted.

BLIMP MAKING 60-MILE SPEED ON HOMING TRIP

Will Reach Shores of Britain On Schedule Time at Present Rate.

Washington, July 16.—Aided by a westerly wind, that sometimes reached a velocity of nearly forty miles an hour, the British dirigible R-34 was well out over the Atlantic the Atlantic on the return trip to stay of eighty-six hours in America.

The last message from the airship received by the Navy Department gave her position at that time as 650 miles due east of Bar Harbor, Me., and more than 1,000 miles from Mincola, L. I., from which she started.

The dirigible, according to wireless reports received by the Navy Department throughout the day, averaged more than sixty miles an hour for the first fifteen hours of the return flight and at times the big airship's speed reached between seventy-five and eighty miles an hour.

The dirigible thus was making better time than at any period of the flight to this side of the Atlantic and if weather conditions remain favorable naval officers here believe Maj. G. H. Scott, Commander, and members of the R-34's crew will see British shores soon.

A request was sent to the weather bureau late to-day that weather reports be sent to the R-32 regularly during the trip to England. Another radio message asked all reports from vessels along the path being followed by the R-32 be wirelessed.

The last weather report sent to the R-34 from here to-night said that a storm center over Newfoundland was moving northeast and that another over Ontario was moving toward Newfoundland.

Strong westerly winds were predicted over the western Atlantic as far east as the fiftieth meridian and probably much farther.

WANT

In every County where there is a County Agent, a list of articles and live stock both for sale and wanted to buy, is made up each month.

I get such a list each month, and also make up a similar one, for this County. If you want to buy or sell let me know, my list will be where you can see it at any time; there is no charge, you are not out a penny—your advertisement or want will go all over the state to every County in which there is an Agent.

Leave a list in my office in the Court House if you don't see me or mail it to me, or leave it with the Bank or County Clerk.

There is less chance of making a mistake if you write it down, don't forget to put your name, address, R. F. D. and telephone if you have one; somebody might be in a hurry to pay you some money, and if your name wasn't there I might not know how to find you.

OUR FAMILY FIGHT

While it has been the general policy of The Herald to refrain from playing favorites in Democratic primary races, we do feel it is sometimes justifiable and necessary to do so. The race for Governor is on, and to all political observers, it is apparent that our nominee will be Judge Carroll or Governor Black. Either would make a splendid Chief Executive. Both able and both have been highly honored by their party and the people. This, together with our conviction that the affairs of the State should be controlled by Democrats, compels us to consider one another point, and that is the availability of the nominee—his strength, if you please, for the final race. We all know the Republicans, with their hand-picked ticket, will put up the strongest fight possible. The party whip will be cracked and, regardless of differences on many issues, the rank and file will fall in line. Their candidate for Governor is at least a good stumper, and we may rest assured that if we have a weak spot in, on or about our ticket, he and his colleagues will hammer on that to the exclusion of most everything else as they did four years ago when we lost in one race and won the others by the skin of the teeth.

We will need all Democrats in line. Our nominee for Governor should not be handicapped by anything upon which an accusation of corporate influence could be founded. We think Judge Carroll will be such a nominee. With him we have nothing harsh to say of Governor Black. He has made some mistakes which would cost the ticket many votes if he should be the nominee, not because of the seriousness of such mistakes, but because especially of the opportunity that would be afforded the Republicans to magnify them and in that way draw the minds of the people from the faults and shortcomings of Republican administrations in County, State and National affairs.

Anyway, we should take no chances, but should nominate men for the State offices upon whom all Democrats can unite and enthusiastically support.

The road tax has again been submitted to the voters of the county and we believe it is due to carry this time. The fact that the counties all around Ohio have voted it and that we are likely to lose a federal highway if we do not put up a small amount of money, are embarrassing to a county as large as Ohio County. However, the money collected under the provisions of the present road tax would not be used to build post roads or federal highways but in building substantial dirt roads throughout the county. There could not easily be any misappropriation of these funds as they would be spent in the district where collected for the benefit of the roads in each locality. Besides a practical benefit of it would mean is the price of farm the tax can be seen in the increase in the price of farm land. An erroneous idea that the sheriff would get a great commission for collecting the tax is corrected in the court's statement that he is to receive only one percent.

Many of our farmers are leaving Ohio County and making large investments in other counties and states, seemingly not to realize the latent possibilities of this county which will mean great wealth to the citizens if ever developed. There is evidently a valuable sub-strata of mineral underlying a large portion of the county and oil is here without a doubt; while we have as fine farm land as any section of the state, considering the size and extent of this county.

PROMINENT PHYSICIAN A SUICIDE

Dr. Z. H. Schultz, a well known physician and a native of Ohio County, committed suicide at his home at Masonville, Daviess County, Monday morning, by drinking carbolic acid. It is said despondency, due to a small practice, and ill health caused him to commit the rash deed.

Dr. Schultz was one of the county's best known physicians, and prior to the war, was engaged in practice at Pleasant Ridge, Daviess County. He enlisted in the service and was commissioned and after receiving his discharge located at Masonville, where he resided until he took his life. On the morning of the suicide, he called to see some patients and later returned to his home where he wrote his wife a note and drank the acid. He was found in a sitting posture, dead.

Dr. Schultz was married to Miss Rachel Sandefur, of Hartford, seventeen years ago. He has no children. The funeral was held yesterday.

HEAVRIN-TURNER CASE ON TRIAL

The case of Oma L. Turner versus Mary Heavrin, charging criminal conversation with her former husband, Charles P. Turner, was called for trial Monday. Up to our press hour, all the evidence by the plaintiff had been heard and Mrs. Heavrin, the first witness on the side of the defendant, was on the stand. There is little bitterness being shown by either side.

The plaintiff is represented by Judge J. S. Gordon, of Madisonville and B. Y. Moore, of Madisonville. Attorney Ben D. Ringo, of Frankfort and several local attorneys represent the defendant. The remainder of the evidence will probably be heard and the case given to the jury today.

YOUNG WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Annie Stewart, wife of Cody Stewart, of Fordsville, died Monday, July 7, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Stewart had been sick in bed about three weeks. She was twenty-two years of age and is survived by her husband and a small child. She was a niece of Messrs. S. O. Keown and Cal P. Keown, of this place. Funeral services were conducted at Fordsville Tuesday by Rev. R. L. Brandenburg, with interment in Fordsville cemetery.

A Coated Tongue? What it Means

A bad breath, coated tongue, bad taste in the mouth, languor and debility, are usually signs that the liver is out of order. PROF. HEM-METER says: "The liver is an organ secondary in importance only to the heart."

We can manufacture poisons within our own bodies which are as deadly as a snake's venom.

The liver acts as a guard over our well-being, sifting out the cinders and ashes from the general circulation.

A blockade in the intestines piles a heavy burden upon the liver. If the intestines are choked or clogged up, the circulation of the blood becomes poisoned and the system becomes loaded with toxic waste, and we suffer from headache, yellow-coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, nausea, or gas, acid dyspepsia, languor, debility, yellow skin or eyes. At such times one should take castor oil or a pleasant laxative. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloe and jalap, put into ready-to-use form by Doctor Pierce, nearly fifty years ago, and sold for 25 cents by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Great Loom-End Sale

Begins Saturday, July 19th,
Closes Saturday, August 2nd.

To Buy at Loom-End Prices, You Must Pay Cash for Your Purchases.
Merchandise Charged, Will Be At Regular Prices.

Again we summon you to our semi-annual bazaar in feast. The manufacturer's prices are from 20 to 50 per cent higher than they were sixty days ago.

PEACE AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS TERMS

have been signed by Germany and practically all the leading nations of the world. The soldiers of all warring nations must turn from war to the peaceful pursuits of life. These millions of soldiers must have clothes, civilian clothes and working clothes. The millions of the civilian population of France, England, Russia, Italy, Belgium, South America, Germany, and all other countries must be clothed and fed. The supply of all these countries is very limited, and many of the warring nations have practically nothing. Every one of them is looking to the United States for the things they haven't. Many of them have buyers in this country, with millions of dollars to spend for our merchandise, and the rest will be here as soon as they can establish satisfactory credit in this country. All of these buyers scrambling for merchandise and no surplus stock on hand, you can readily see that prices are bound to go skyward on everything that's to wear. One or two years of very high prices seems evident.

The savings on our merchandise at today's regular prices, will be enormous. In the face of all this, we have assembled thousands of yards of Loom-End Calicoes, Percales, Cheviots, Gingham, Longcloth, White Goods, Fancy Skirtings, Silks, Cretons and every odd thing and short length from every department, making the price much below the cost of production. Buy for your present and future needs. You will make money if you buy things for next summer.

Remember the date. Be on hand the first day, and every day thereafter. Carefully consider everything with red tickets on it. Buy what you can use. We won't have enough to give everybody as much as they want.

CHAPTER XVIII

SUCCESS

He was passing the publishing house that was to issue his book one day in late July, when the proprietor stepped to the door and beckoned him inside. As soon as he entered the house the pleased publisher handed him a rather weighty little package, wrapped in brown paper. He examined it carefully, without opening it, and finally asked, "What is this, anyway?"

"Look and see."

He broke open the package and glanced at the contents, a glow of delight spreading over his face. "Ah, my books!" he said, turning them over and counting them; "eight I believe, and aren't they beauties! It is the very perfection of the printer's art. I don't see how you could have gotten them out in such superb style."

The publisher was pleased with his enthusiasm. "So you like them, do you?"

"Like them! I should say so! I never imagined such work could be done." Then after a few moments study: "What sort of success do you fancy it will have with the public?"

"Don't know yet," answered the publisher. "Haven't had time to hear from them yet. I just sent out twenty-five copies to the magazines for review this morning, of the story is favorably received by them, it will probably go well everywhere else."

Merlin went back to his boarding house in a high state of elation. Along the crowded walk, though he was jostled by the crowd that poured by him, he could not help stopping still every few minutes and reading over some short passage. It seemed to be a thousand times more beautiful in print than in the manuscript, when he was sweating and toiling over the dictionary to find the right words.

As soon as he reached the little house down on the avenue, where he was staying, he ran up the steps and shoved the door open almost colliding with Mrs. Hatfield, his hostess. She gave him a searching, frowning glance and was about to pass by but he intercepted her.

"Wait, Mrs. Hatfield, I have something to show you," he said glibly. "It is a work of my own hands, a product of my own intellect and I am extremely proud of it."

He held out his book, she balanced her spectacles on the end of her nose and looked it over coolly, then handed it back to him, with, "Yes, you're the third literary 'Yes, you're the third literary don't do anything but write and dream and write again. And they are eternally pestering me with their printed tommyrot. Now, Mr. Mitchell, if you want to read and write there is your room; you may remain there and pour over books to your hearts content, but don't come around me with any such stuff—I am a business woman and haven't time to fool with such stuff." She passed out the door with her head held high.

Merlin was abashed, his enthusiasm was some what cooled. But this was only another phase of the worlds indifference and he was becoming accustomed to that. What ever joy he got out of reading the product of his own pen, he must not share with any one else. It must be his own, his priceless, spiritual satisfaction. He hastened to his room and after adjusting the blinds to make the light the most convenient for reading, he plunged in to the story. To him, to whom the joy of creation was new, it was like taking a bath in milk and honey. Often he found himself fondly dreaming over some favorite passage or conning a sweet sounding word that had come from his heart as spontaneously as a dewdrop from the night sky.

The days immediately following the publication of his book were delirious days for him. Every where he went, on every hand, were evidences of his book. In almost all the prominent newspapers of the city and in most of the leading magazines were half and full page advertisements of his book; copies of it were on display in the bookstore windows; in hotels and Depots and the newspaper stands. Several book agents on the streets tried to sell him a copy of it, never however without learning that they were conversing with the distinguished author himself. This was fame and attainment of which he had ever dreamed, and as fortune naturally follows fame, he did not doubt that he had won both. He could not understand how a publishing house that appeared to be so weak financially, could afford to spend so much in advertising the work of an unknown author. He did not know that the same book that had made his name familiar in the literary circles had also won fame for the publishing house. It was the first successful book that they had ever brought out.

One morning in August he strolled into the office of his publishers, it was the first visit he had made there since he had received the presentation copies, and the proprietor greeted him with a broad smile and a hearty hand shake.

"How are you this morning, Mr. Best seller?" was the way he addressed him.

"I didn't know I deserved that title, as yet," answered Merlin, trying to appear unconcerned and to hide his pride in himself.

ROCKPORT 8 — ECHOLS 7

Rockport defeated Echols Sunday in a very interesting Ball game and one which was filled with many thrills and good plays. A Fulkerson, for Echols pitched a good game although he was given some mighty rotten support but after the third inning he usually came through with the stuff to the side when they were threatening to score. Harrel and Morris of Rockport and Goodman of Echols were the batting stars. Harrel got a double, two singles and a base on balls in five times to the plate and scored one run. Morris drove in the first two runs of the game with a three bagger. He also scored two runs, got a single, got to first on an error, was hit by a pitched ball and stole three bases. Goodman scored one run, got a double and two singles in four times up. Bound Sheffield pitched a good game and was given marvelous support in all but one inning. The following double plays helped him a great deal. Morris to W. Barnard, Johns to W. Barnard, and Harrel to A. Everly to W. Barnard.

The Score—1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Rockport—4 0 2 0 1 0 0 2 2

WORDS FROM HOME.

Statements That May Be Investigated Testimony of Hartford Citizens.

When a Hartford citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Hartford resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

Lorenza Acton, Pike St., Hartford, says: "I have suffered with backache and pains across my kidneys, and have found that Doan's Kidney Pills regulate my kidneys and help my back whenever I get this way. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a reliable kidney medicine."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Acton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. Advertisement.

BLACK IS A WINNER

It is generally conceded that Governor James D. Black will be an easy winner of the democratic nomination for Governor in the August Primary.

The people are for him.

He is the logical candidate. His great service to the ticket in 1915 should not go unrewarded.

He is 10000 votes stronger than any other candidate.

In 1915 he reduced the republican majority in 35 counties in Eastern Kentucky, nearly 5000 votes.

His majority over his opponent was from 4000 to 8000 more than the majority of the other members of the ticket over their respective opponents.

He is the best campaigner, the best debator, the most pleasing speaker, by far, of any candidate offering for Governor on the democratic ticket.

In him, Democracy has an invincible champion.

He's a Winner—Vote For Him and Democratic Success in November!

How Far Does Your Dollars Travel?

The Indians thought they were driving a mighty shrewd bargain when they sold Manhattan Island for twenty-four dollars. The price paid for Manhattan will hardly get you a table at one of the New York roof cabarets today.

STATE OF KENTUCKY, OHIO COUNTY FISCAL COURT JUNE 26th, 1919

It appearing that Ohio County has not sufficient amount of money for road purposes and that the present system of road working by road hands is inadequate and unsuitable for the working and up keep of the roads of Ohio County, and having been called upon by the State Commissioner of public Roads of Kentucky, as well as by a large number of citizens of Ohio County by petition for a better and more adequate system of the working and upkeep of the country roads of Ohio County, and being desirous of meeting this demand in the best and most practicable way, and it further appearing that a special election upon the question of a 20c road tax may be held at a primary election at but very small expense in addition to the expense otherwise required and made necessary by holding of a primary election for its general purposes, it is now, on motion of Esq. B. F. Rice ordered and adjudged by the court that a special election be held throughout Ohio County and in each and all the precincts therein on August 2, 1919, for the purpose of submitting the question of voting a tax of 20c on the $100.00 on all property subject by law to local taxation for the improvement or construction of the public roads and bridges of the county, either, or both. Said amount of tax shall be 20c on the hundred dollars each year for a period of five years and no amount of money in excess of the amount that can be raised by the levy in any one year shall be expended in that year, and all indebtedness created in any one year for such road and bridge purposes shall be paid out of the fund raised in that year. Said tax to be an ad valorem tax to be levied each year and collected by the sheriff at the same time and in the same manner and by the same processes that he collects other taxes and for the collection of the tax levied hereunder the sheriff shall be entitled to and allowed a commission of 1 per cent more, as provided in section 4307B 4 of Kentucky Statutes Vol. 3.

The question of voting said tax of 20c ad valorem on the hundred dollars worth of property subject by law to local taxation, shall be submitted to the voters in the following language and not otherwise:

"Are you for a property tax of twenty cents on each one hundred dollars worth of property in the county, to be levied each year for five years, for the purpose of improving or constructing, either or both, the roads, and bridges of the county?"
S. A. Bratcher, sheriff of Ohio County, Ky., is hereby appointed, ordered and directed to hold said election, and he shall cause a poll to be opened in each and all of the precincts throughout Ohio County, on the above named date as the law in such cases directs and he will first advertise said election by having a certified copy of this order published in a weekly newspaper the question of a 20c road tax may be held at a primary election at but very small expense in addition to the expense otherwise required, and made necessary by holding of a primary election for its general purposes, it is now, on motion of Esq. B. F. Rice ordered and adjudged by the court that a special election be held throughout Ohio County and in each and all the precincts therein on August 2, 1919, for the purpose of submitting the question of voting a tax of 20c on the $100.00 on all property subject by law to local taxation for the improvement or construction of the public roads and bridges of the county, either, or both. working in Ohio County from the road hand system now in existence to a system of working said roads by the use of proper and improved, adequate and sufficient road machinery, by teams, graders, scrapers, ditchers, drags, picks, drills, dynamite, and other road appliances, adaptable and suitable for both hills and lowlands, so that each and all sections of road whether hill or lowland shall have the attention necessary and suitable for its proper upkeep and convenient use for the several communities affected and for the general traveling public. But the purchase of such machinery, implements and tools shall be made in no event out of the funds derived from the 20c road tax, but exclusively from the funds derived from taxes regularly levied and collected each year as already provided by law, and the men now subject to duties as road hands throughout the county shall be released from such duty.

The amount of said tax shall not exceed the said rate of 20c on the hundred dollars as aforesaid, nor be levied or collected for a longer period than five years. As it is not within our power to levy or have collected any poll tax additional to that already levied and collected, nor to submit the question of voting an additional poll tax, hence the election ordered is for the purpose of levying and collecting a tax on property only. Ayes and Nays being called for resulted as follows: B. F. Rice, Yes; Q. B. Brown, Yes; W. S. Dean, Yes; W. C. Daugherty, Yes; B. C. Rhoads, Yes; G. W. Rowe, No; Sam L. Stevens, Absent; Ed. Shown, Yes. Whereupon the motion was declared carried and so ordered.
